This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. WHITE MOUNTAIN APACHE TEXTS.

By Pliny Earle Goddard.

Introduction.

The linguistic material here presented in the form of texts with accompanying literal translations was chiefly secured in 1910 on the San Carlos Reservation. A number of bands of Apache from the region of the White Mountains preferred to remain on the Gila River above its junction with the San Carlos River when others were permitted to return to their former homes. Under the circumstances existing at the time the texts could be secured in the neighborhood of San Carlos more advantageously than on the White Mountain Reservation. That first given, dictated by the father of Frank Crockett, is the better material, from the standpoint of phonetic transcription. In large part this was due to the fact that the work was done with father and son; but by that time also considerable familiarity with the language had been acquired by the recorder. The long narrative by Noze supplies a fairly abundant vocabulary with a wealth of grammatical forms. These texts taken together with those from the San Carlos given above will perhaps be sufficient for the Apache of Arizona except for the Tonto who live some distance west and whose dialect is rather different.

From there defeated they two started back they say. Bitcil'ehe defeated they two came back they say. | From there Tsitena'a place called they two came to water they say. There large snake | it is called they two came to they say. Porcupine was there. "My-cousin, porcupine here | is lying," he said they say. Then he killed-it they say. Then he buried it[1] | they say. The same night middle he uncovered it they say. Then Naiyenezgani | did not eat it. Then Naiyenezgani his cousin only he just one | ate it they say. "My-cousin," he said they say. "Bitter it tastes," he said they say. | "Try eating it, my cousin," he said they say. Then the same night they two lay down again they say. | Then they went to sleep they say. Then this man snake he had eaten when it was day in here | in-the water inside he had crawled along they say.

From there he started home they say. Just so when the sun-was going down when it was yellow everywhere Tatakowa | where it-is called he came back they say. "From Tsitena'a early this morning I came," he said | they say. These all kinds people then they say. Then "What place is called?" | they said they say, eagle people. "Here Pelican (?) old man he only. Earth | on it everywhere I have seen, he is always saying," they said they say. "Pelican | old man send word to." Then Pelican old man they notified | they say. Then from there Pelican old man cane he walked with they say. Then | he sat down they say. "Pelican old man 'Every-where earth on it | I have seen' you are always saying. 'From Tsitena'a early today I started' he says," they told him | they say. "Hee hee," he said they say. "Not near by it must have happened," he said they say. "From there | when I was flying back from Tsite-na'a, when I was flying back then twelve days | in here just with me sunset the earth was yellow," he said they say.

There he spent the night with them they say. "Last night then something he ate they say. | Then snake he had eaten it," he said they say. "Then in here he had crawled into the water," | they say. Then these eagle people all, whirlwind black he too | they say. Sun too they say. Moon too they say. All they say. | Gan people too they say. There Tsitena'a, they started they say. Then | there they came they say, Tsitena'a, they say.

Then there sun in his presence they say. Moon too in her-presence | they say. Then black Gan turquoise hoop he rolled in-the water they say. Then | water raised up they say so much.

Then clown black stone hoop | he rolled in the water they say. So-much water raised up they say. Then his face half covered | red-stone hoop he rolled in the water they say. So much water raised-up they say. | Then red Gan white shell hoop rolled in the water they say. Then high as a man stands | water raised up they say.

From there after him they went they say. Snake he had-become they say. Then | after him they went they say. Then they overtook him they say. Then over beyond | snake was standing they say rattling. I guess that man had been it was they say.

Then turquoise hoop he threw on him they say. So far on him it jumped | they say. Then as far as here man he looked like they-say. Black stone hoop he rolled | they say. So far on him it-jumped they say. Red stone hoop he rolled again | they say. So-far above man on it jumped they say. White shell hoop he-rolled | they say. Here completely on him it jumped they say. Then | entirely man he became again they say. Then his hands with he took hold of | they say.

From there with him they started back they say. Twelve nights with him they danced they say. | A man he was becoming they say. Then twelve nights when no one had slept | then one fell asleep they say.

Then that one snake who had become he started to sing they-say. "Up | where I am going where I am going sky where it comes-together I am going up," he said they say. | Then where he had-been standing he was not they say.

Then his sister he had they say. She started to sing they say. "Where one does not lie, | mesquite where it stands, mesquite where-they come together black it is called I am going," she said they-say. Where she had stood | she again was not they say. Then here summer time they crawl around female | under she lives they say. Male up here he lives they say.

From this Indians supernatural power became they say. That Naiyenezgani alone | najonc poles had they say. Alone he threw-the poles they say. Poles two | then alone he played they say.

they hunted for | they say. Gans where they lived they two went it-seems they say. Then in vain | to them they gave food they say. From there when they two came back in vain they gave them food | they say. They would not eat it they say. Gans where they lived it seemed they had eaten they say.

Then one Indian became ill they say. His eyes were crooked | they say. His mouth too was crooked they say. His arms were-crooked | they say. His hands too were crooked they say. His legs | too were crooked they say. Then "What shall we do?" they said | they say. Their mother it seems they told her they say. "Deer its hide | without a hole in it, turquoise its forehead tied on, soft-feather tied through it its forehead | tied on make," she said they-say. "Black stone soft feathers through it make | buckskin be-tween its eyes tie on it also," she said they say. "Red stone soft feathers | through it also tie on," she said they say. "White-shell soft feathers through it | also tie on," she said they say. Then "Those children | top of their foot put it," she said they say.

His foot they put it on they say. Then over there (?) he-threw it | they say. His foot with he threw it they say. That one his foot with here | he kicked it they say. Four times it was they say.

Then "Wood bring in," he said they say. Then "This one on him let us dance | sick man on him let us dance," he said they-say. Then "All of you | come together," he said they say. Then "Man on let there be a dance," he said they say. | Then "he-notified them," they say. Then people all | came together they say. Then "Here sick man here bring him," he said | they say. Here he built a fire they say. Then all people came together, | they say.

"Here where we are going to sing all of you come together," he said they say. Then | all people came together they say. Then they began to sing they say. | Then Black Gan his grandchildren these two being leaders they began to dance they say.

Then he stood up they say. "To you I will speak," he said they say. "One | shall not go away," he said they say. Then "Danger-ous thing to you | will happen," he said they say. Then four songs they sang they say.

Then here east bull roarer made a noise, here bull roarer made a-noise they say. | Here west a noise was made again they say. Now this way it made a noise again | they say. The Doings of Coyote.

Long ago Coyote "They are all dying," they told him they say. Then this hair brush | this skin dresser muller then having tied-them together "They will come back | these if they float only," he said. Then they sank they say. | Then they sank because they-did not come back they say.

Then snow fell they say. This being flour it snowed they say.| Then the same Coyote "Ice I am chewing," he said they say. Then ice it became they say.

Then deer their horns too tallow they say. Then the same-Coyote "Bone I chew," he said again they say.

Coyote also felt sick they say. His daughter was pretty they-say. Coyote | when he got sick then "Throw me away," his wife he told they say. Then | "They will be playing hoop-and-pole," he-said they say. Then "Panther quiver the one who has | him give-our daughter for a wife," he said they say. "Prairie dogs he will-have in his hand," he said they say.

Then "Where they were playing the one standing give her to him," he said they say. | Then there when he was standing she gave her to him they say. Then his daughter | he married they say. Then his own daughter he married, lice for she looked | they say. Then back of his head wart they say. Then "Here lice | usually stay," he said. Then his daughter lice for him she looked they say. | Then Coyote he was asleep they say. "Then why because does-he say it," she thought they say. Here back of his head wart they say. Then Coyote when he was asleep under him she slipped-out they say.

Then her mother she told they say. Then "My father it is the back of his head | wart," she said they say. Then stone large-one she picked up they say. Then | there she was going to hit-him with it they say. The crown of his head stone she was holding then | as she was going to hit him with it her shadow he saw they say. Then he ran out from under | they say.

Then he trotted off they say, here toward the east they say. Then | where a camp was he trotted they say. "There his daughter his wife is is trotting along," they all said | they say. Then "Cici cici cici," they heard his anus. | Then Coyote scabby they hit they say. Then "Wai," | he said they say.

Then Coyote was a person Coyote he turned into they say. Then Coyote drove them in | they say, mules he drove in they say. Then five he smothered, | "Those mules five here they will call it," he said they say. | "I wonder what smothered them five he-smothered?" "Why their throats he skinned?" | he said they say. "These Coyote his water, his springs it will be named," | he said they say.

Then coyotes people they say. Then coyotes when were-persons whiskey | they say they all drank they say. Then coyotes when they were people whiskey | they drank everywhere they went-shouting they say. Then outside they barked | they say.

Here my yucca fruit lies. All.

Creation Myth.

Then many were living together there, maiden. Then that maiden went away, | mountain high its top. Then that mountain-high on it she went up. | Sun first it strikes. Then sun his breath between her legs | it shines in. Her skirt up she pulled. Then four-times she went up they say. | Then fourth time his breath between-her legs shone in it became they say.

Then pregnant she became they say. "The girl is not married she is with child," | everybody was saying they say. There four days then when she had gone | from there she came back four days. Then eight when days were she had a baby | they say. Then four days after it was born it stood up they say.

Then his hands fingers between were webbed. His feet too between his toes | too. His eyebrows too were none. His eyelashes too were none. His hair | one in a place formed a line they say. This his ears too were round they say. | Nevertheless just this his meatus hole was they say. "He doesn't look like a person," | they-all said. Then four days then when he stood up well | he-walked they say. Then children with he played they say.

She went away again they say, his mother. Then his mother went away again | they say. Sun under there water was dripping they say. Then | water dripping under her thighs she placed they say. Then her hips | in water dripped they say. Then four days she did it they say. Then | algae hanging down from it water flowing under that it dripped they say.

Then pregnant she became they say. Then four days were day by day | her abdomen was large they saw again they say. Four days when it was then | she had a baby again they say. Eight days she had a baby again they say. Then four | days were its day he-stood up they say. Then well he walked he became | they say. Then just as before like a person he was the same way they say. His hands | were webbed they say. His feet too. His eyebrows were none they say. His hair | was none they say. His ears were-round they say. But there were holes they say.

Then well they two walked they say. One his head was higher they say. | Then, "These what people among us two go about?" they said they say. "Not their parents | they have," they said they-say. The people said it they say. Then, "These two | people make among us they go around," he said they say. Woman her-children who had | then, "Where her kindred they live among us they two go around?" he said they say. Her sister | she had, "Why do you say that? These both their father they have far away."

Then now boys they ran they became they say. Eight when-days were | they ran they say. Wise they became they say. Then, "My mother where our father | he lives?" he said they say. Then, "My children, why do you say that? Impossible to him | you go," she said they say. Then, "My mother why do you say that? Our father why | from us do you hide?" they said they say. Then, "(Inter.) your father where he lives there | do you want to go?" she-asked they say. Then, "Our father where he lives we go for that-reason | tell us," he said | they say. Then, "There far your father lives. Poor way | you speak. Impossible to him you go," she said they say. Their mother said it they say. | Then, "Nevertheless, our father where he lives we are going. Tell us," he said | they say. "Impossible over there you go your father where he lives," she said they say. Then, | "Well, our father being none we go," he said they say. "As you say then my children | let us go as you say. Mountain large it stands on top let us go." | Meat she cut they-say, four. Then, "Tonight the middle we will go," she said | they-say.

Then when it got dark there daylight close to it when it was then | they started they say. Then mountain large on top when-they came up it was daylight they say. | Then they stood there they say, sun facing. Then woman | between them stood they say, holding each of them by the hand. Then sun came up they say. | "Look, your father comes up," she said they say. "Well look," she said they say. His breath | each side streamed out they say.

"His breath streams out toward it go," she said | they say. "Where-it rises toward it dangerous place is. What with it to him you-will go | do you say that?"

Then fly brown she has they say, woman then she gave it-to them | they say. Telling them everything by their ears it sits they say. Then, "That | fly will tell you the way dangerous as it-is called his house to him," she said | they say. Then, "Sun when-it starts here right above when it comes | only you go," she said they say. Then center hole then it stood they say. | Trees on top when it was four times they went around in a circle they say.

Then she from them started back then the boys they two-started | they say. Up then they two went they say. The sun it-comes up toward. | The sun was going this way, then they two sat-down they say, crying.

Then over here Raven spreading his wings alighted they say. "Underneath what | because are you sitting crying?" it said they say. Then, "Over there our father lives | they say. That | with one could see they say. Then they-stood on it they say. Then not between | one could go it was. Both ways they were spread out they say. Then, "Which one my-horse | you catch," he said they say. Sun said it they say.

Then fly one side of his ear which sat, "Some rope with you-catch it," | he said they say. Then, "His rope make him give you," he said they say. Then, | "Quickly catch it," he said they say. Then, "What way is it caught?" | he said they say. "His foretop catch it lead it, our hands with shall we carry it out?" | he said they say. Then sun started to go they say. Just in here | door inside he opened they say. Then ropes spotted he had in his hand | they say. Then one him he gave they say. Other boy too him he gave they say. | Then, "Which one my horses catch," he said they say.

Then horses those inclosed were running around they say. In the center only one did not move | they say. Then there horse yellow his forehead white spot small | then his mane to the ground reached they say. Then horse raised his head toward him | he started they say. Then horses from each other they moved they say. Then | rope toward it he threw they say. Then he lassoed they say. Then to him | it came they say. Then, "Now you horse another you catch," he said they say. | Then, "Who told you?" he said they say. Then stallion | around the edge was running around they say. Then he was not gentle they say. His mane | to the ground reached down they say.

Then their fly, "That his horse is," he told them they say. Then, "Not gentle | you think, not wild he is." Then, "His horses both from him | take out," he said to them they say, their fly.

Then rope he carried in they say in there. Then stallion | the edge was running around they say. Then toward him it was running they say. Then close | when he saw him he stopped they say. Then back he ran again they say. | Then he lassoed it they say. Then the one lassoed whinneying toward him | trotted they say. Then his arm it nosed they say, both sides. | Then horse yellow by him he led up they say. Then the yellow one | a mare they say.

Then sun then, "Just so my children you ride them about," he said | they say. Then, "Earth on with you ride them back," he said they say. | Then, "What horse that which lies on we came for it," he said they say. Boys | said that they say. Then, "What do you mean horse on it lies?" he said | they say. "I do not know," he said they say. Then the younger to him | spoke they say. Then, "Horse on it which lies you do not know this horse | in the inclosure any on it not put again," he said they say. Then sun | spoke they say. "You are smart beyond me; who is it you think you | makes?" he said they say. Then, "What you us makes us our talk | too smart because you made us we are smart," he told him they say.

Then, "Those horses bridles halters blankets saddles | give us," he said they say. Then away from them he turned they say. |

He opened the door they say. "Inside go," he said they say. Then inside | they went they say. Saddles were piled up they say. Its horn bridle over it | hung they say. All under it halters were-piled up they say.

Then not yet when they had gone in fly inside flew they say. | Then saddles all on horse blankets lay they say. Two | only none they say. The other sun under was sitting they say. The-other sun | where it sets under was sitting they say. One blue they say. The other | yellow they say. Then their fly already by their ear when had lighted again, | sun spoke they say. "These saddles which ever one you want take," | he said they say.

Then their fly told them they say. "This saddle good you-think but | it is not a saddle. Then that saddle blue, that saddle | yellow, those his saddles are," he said they say. Then, "Those saddle | yellow sits his saddle is just by it blanket yellow | two which lie are his right by them halter which lies is his also, | over-there saddle which sits is his saddle the blue one, just by it | blanket blue which lies is his, just by it halter | which lies is his." Then over there they went they say.

Then, "Hurry saddle pick out," he said they say, sun. | Then one over there went they say. The other over there went they-say. | Then saddle by itself down came they say. Blanket too | then saddle on it it dropped they say. Halter also on it | jumped they say. Saddle down went they say. Also blanket also | they-say. Then saddle on it dropped they say. Halter | too on it jumped they say. Then saddle move began | they say, both. Then, "Gej," said they say. "Tsil," he heard they say.

Then sun from them moved they say. Then from his pocket | silk black two times its border white goes around he took out | they say. Then his eyes water with he wiped off they say. Then, "Just that | for I reared you," he said they say. Then sun walked | they say. Horse near then saddle did not take hold of they say.

Their fly, "No," he said they say. "Sun just himself will fix-it," | he said they say. "It belongs to you," he said they say. Then, "Those all | alive are," he said they say. "Over there horse those-on too those too alive | are," he said they say. Then "Just his-only he handles them," he said they say. Then, | "Those saddles by themselves on jump those horses," he said | they say. Fly said it they say.

Then halter is not they say, saddle on which was lying. Then | bridle was not they say, also saddle on which was lying. Then saddle blanket | was gone they say, saddle on which was lying. Then saddle was gone | they say. Then saddle blue which was lying on it halter was gone | they say. Then bridle was gone again they say. The other saddle blanket that too | was gone again they-say. Saddle was gone again they say. Then sun | where he stood he spoke they say. "My sons, here come," he said they say. | Then they two went out again they say. Then the doors both were shut | they say, saddles their gate, horses their gate too. Then sun | toward him they two started they say, he was standing toward him. Then horses between | he stood they say. The other-side horses their faces projected they say, the other side also. | Then holding them he stood they say. Then from there they-started to go they say.

Then the sun, "Here in front of me," he said they say. Then in front of him | when they walked behind horses he led; then four doors they went by | they say. Then sun his house in front of post stood up | they say. Then sun horses he was leading one toward it he led | they say. The other also they say. Then no rope-was on them they say. Nicely | they stood they say.

Then his house in chairs four were standing they say. | Then just one by itself stood they say. Then inside his children | chairs on them they sat they say. One his wife on it | she sat they say. Then, "My boys, dangerous place you will come." Then, | "I am going-to teach you," he said they say. "Well, I will teach you," he said they say. Then, | "These horses know dangers where you go back," he said they say. Then, | "My wife, is pleased; well she treats you because of it. This horse one her horse | is. The other mine," he said they say. "Saddle, bridle, halter, saddle blanket | also," he said they say. "Mine saddle, bridle, halter, | saddle blanket, rope, also mine too," he said they say. Then, "Your kinsfolk | among you will go back," he said they say. Then, "Near it is; | hurry," they say. "One something I will give you," he said they-say.

Then sun stood up they say. Then inside on a shelf | he began-to reach they say. Then knife he picked up they say. It was like-a sword they say. | Then so much he turned around they say. Then arrows bow with he picked them up | they say. Arrow-head it had they say. Arrows two they say. "These I give you," he said | they say. Then, "Just only these are you giving us?" he-said they say. "Our mother nothing | does she know? Nothing she gives us?" he said they say.

Then sun his wife, "A little to you I will talk," | she said they say. Then, "Your mother (?) you my nephews you will be; | your mother my sister will be," she said they say. Then, "Like-me she will be. | Well I treat you because," she said they say. Then, "Just I like I am | she will be. Old woman I become again. Another time two years | like I am. Then your mother she will-be the same way. Then | before the sun moves far your mother you-will tell," she said they say. "I I told you," | she said they say. "Not he, he did not tell you," she said they say. Then, | "Woman I my sister her name for her I make," she said they say. "Then yours | your father your names will make for you," she said they-say. Then sun | picking up something he held it they say. "Wait then I will tell you something, first | then after that to you he-will give something," she said they say.

Then, "Earth on it her name for her I make my sister," she said they say. | Then, "Earth on it with it they will call her, then to me she will come. | You, also, to me you will come, also," she said they say. Then, | "Your mother her name for her I make. Then 'Woman makes herself' she will be called. | She will help you," she said they say. "Ests'unnadlehi her name for her I make. That | with it she will help you," she said they say. Then, "Here-after when she gives birth | girls two she will bear," she said they-say. Then, "These women | Indians will belong to. Then Indians will be. Then she will help them. Then | I, also, I will help them. Here when he comes to me, here when he comes to me here | also he will help them, his children," she said they say. Then, "That because of | I tell you this," she said they say. "Well you re-member it," she said they say. Then, | "I presently," she said they say. he said they say. Then to them he gave them they say. Bow arrows | with they say. Then, "Not arrow will pass by, three-times it will approach (?) | then now bow string then now the-frightful thing with it | you will shoot. Then each way it will fly-apart. Then all, as you say," | he said they say.

Then, "A little we will eat," he said they say. Then they ate. | They started they say. Then sun his wife there where she sat | table on it food everywhere covered they say. Somebody | prepared it they say. There they began to eat they say.

Then sun his wife belt boy elder | gave it to they say. Belt spotted, its edge yellow hung down they say. | Then all they-finished eating they say.

Then, "Well, my boys, what shall we do? Where you return down | you go?" he said they say. Then horse where he stood they went they say. | Then, "My boys it will be well. Stallion blue will go in front," | he said they say. "Wait, horses on them you-sit," he said they say. Then stirrup, | saddle horn he held they-say. "Both then now you sit on," | he said they say. Then they-sat on them they say.

Then his house some distance where the sun rises toward it-stands up | they say. Post white its hair to the ground it reached they say. Then ground | its top so high water falls on it they say. Then, "That around it horses go around with you | four times let it be. Then right there where I stand you come back," | he-said they say. Then that all they say.

Then sun his wife there she walked to they say. Then, | "Old man, your children well you tell them," she said they say. "Horse blankets two, | halters two, bridles two, ropes two, saddles | two, all you enumerate," she said they say. Then, "My-children, | what can I do for you?" he said they say. "Well, go-back," he said they say. | "I am acquainted with you," he said they say. Then, "My boys, these saddle blankets, | you must-treat well," he said they say. "This horse blue let him lead," he said | they say. "Halfway between the earth and sky trail he-knows," he said they say. "From there onward horse | yellow will lead," he said they say. "That one also trail knows. He-must not get out of the trail with you," | he said they say.

Then, "Earth on it where they go back with you, your mother where she lives, | when you get back, four nights you must tie them-out," he said they say. "Yellow one here | you must tie out," he said they say. "Horse blue here must be," he said they say. | with him I walked all day horses around them. | He gave me information all day that because of it I am happy," he said they say.

"Tomorrow early no one let him go out," he said they say. "I, I am going out | early," he said they say. Then the next-morning he went out they say. Then | in front saddle yellow the one that lay, behind it saddle white | was lying they say. Behind that saddle blue, then those between | saddles yellow were lying they say. Then pole that which lay saddles | ten filled-the row they say. Then, "Pole long I told you," he said | they-say. "Pole small you put up," he said they say. Then, "My-son, | just you when you said it, 'post here for it dig a hole,' you told me. 'Another here,' you told me | it was," | she said they-say. Then, "Just these only saddles ours will be," | he said they say.

Then, "Tobatc'istcini, here we will go," he said they say. "Horses that we catch | we will go, hurry," he said they say. "Over there where the rope is you go; I rope | to it I too, hurry, let it be," he said they say. "Horses we will catch," he said they say. From there | where the ropes are he went they say. He, too, went they say, where the rope was. Then the rope | to it he came they say. From there in a circle he went they say. Horses all | toward each other they started they say.

Then their own horses in vain they looked for they say, sun his horses. | Then horses among them in vain they looked for them they say. They were not there they say. Then | horses they were-hunting for they say. The enclosure inside there were two of them, then | together they walked around they say. Then just that way they walked around (circle) they say. | Just that way when they had-gone around in vain they did it they say. Horses were not | they-say. Then those horses among them they looked again they went-around(?) they say. Then | horses close to each other they went they say.

Then, "Naiyenezgani, what because of it your mind is gone?" he said they say. | "'Yesterday my father to him I came,' you-said, 'because of that horses around we two went all day,' | you said. you catch," she said they say. Then, | "These horses blue, yellow horses for you were made," she said they say. Then, | "These horses he took out yesterday," she said they say. Then, "Quickly horses | drive them back," she said they say.

Then horse yellow there he rode back they say. Then | he-unsaddled it, horse white he caught they say. Then horse | blue with it he drove back they say, to the camp. Then, "Let us go," he said to him | they say, to his brother. Then horses on them when they mounted horses they rode. Then | their mother to them she spoke they say. "My boys, that saddle yellow take off, | then this one white on it put," she said they say.

Then there they went back they say. Then to her when they-came back | horse whinneyed they say. His voice stallion blue, like his former horse, his voice was | they say. Another this direction whinneyed they say. That one mare yellow the voice sounded like, | the one that whinneyed they say. Their horses those which whinneyed they knew them. "Nevertheless, | my brother, our horses whinneyed nevertheless nothing we can do," he said they say. | "Quickly," he said they say. Then horses where they were all together toward them they two went, | they say. Then horses started to run off they say. Horses separated each way they say. They-were looking at them | then their horses whinneyed they ran they-say. Then horses they knew them; | where they whinneyed they ran they say.

Then their fly, "All right, he whinneyed," he said they say. "Already the enclosure | inside they have gone. Truly, already four doors are shut," he said | they say. "Far away although they whinneyed here it was heard," he said they say. "Already their stable | inside they have got back, but they whinneyed," he said they say. Their-fly told them this they say.

Then horses camp near it they drove them they say. Then the elder, | "Horses around them you make a circle," he said they-say. "Horses for you I am going to tie," | he said they say. Then, "We our ropes we have none," they told him they say. Then, | "You only your ropes there are," they said they say. People with them they were living said it to him | they say. Then, "Ropes some for us make," they said to him they say. Then, "Wait, | over there, horses where they were going about, we will drive them-back," they said. "Ropes none; tomorrow only | there will be some," he said they say. Then opposite directions they two went they say. Then to each other | they called they say.

them," he said they say. "I, right here, I will sit my horse," | he said they say. Then horses among them he rode they say. Then | mare he caught they say. Then he led it there they say. Then man | rope he gave it to him they say. From there back horses he rode among they say. Then | stallion again he caught they say. Then he led it out they say. Then horses | six when he had caught those ropes all they say.

Then he beckoned to him they say. Then the boy to him rode | they say. Then that boy, "Ropes only six were?" he said | they say. "Yes, just six were; just six horses I caught," he said they say. | Then, "Now, you; just here horse I will sit," he said they say. Then, | "Now I horses for them I caught," he said they say.

Then horses good ones only he picked out they say. Horses were alike then | horses all were good; some small were they looked they say. | Then, "These saddles seven so many," he said they say. Then, "Just the saddles | did you make?" he said they say. Then, "Just so many just you may have," | he said they say. "Others just this way with you they will trot about nevertheless," he said they say. "Sometime | you may have them," he said they say. "For you he knows about it; I, too, for you | I know about it," he said they say.

Then, "These horses you tie out," he said they say, "pretty close." Then, | "To each other if they neigh they are covering them it will be," he said they say. Then, "Horses | if they foal, you will know them. Then these horses among them if you turn them loose, | you will not know them," he said they say. Then, "Just these ropes | for you will look after them, they will know about them," he said they say. Then, "Now | we horses we will drive back," he said they say. "There horses you tie out," he said they say.

Then horses they drove back they say. Then he bridle he hung up | they say. The other from him a different place he put it they say. Then saddle | horse blanket all he brought back they say, camp. Then camp | they two came back they say. Then midnight was they say. Then when it was midnight they did not know it | they say.

Then day was they say. Day was again they say. Then two came | they say. Then houses there were many there they came they say. | Then, "Over there something runs about," he said they say. Then that man questioned them they say. Then, "This land what is it named | you live?" he said they say. Then, "What sort he kills you about him tell us, | well," he said they say. Then, "Land white plain where it is called | we lived," he said they say. Then, "That one some sort our folks who has been killing, | earth on it all over who has been killing nothing we can do to him, nothing | we are going to do," he said they say.

Then, "Now, you question them," he said they say. Then "(Inter.) | truly there were you living?" he said they say. "The-other, I do not believe you," he said | they say. Then, "Truly there we were living," he said they say. "We do not know how to-lie; | we would not fool you," he said they say. "It would not be well if we lied," | he said they say. Then, "All right," he said they say. Then, "These, they are camping, | someone he will kill, you will see, sometime," he said they say. Then, | "I am through," he said they say.

Then, "About him we are uneasy; why did you say it?" he said | they say. "We are afraid of it, from it when we were hiding here we came," he said they say. "Right here | with you all the time we will live," he said they say. Then, "Well when I was thinking | we two came here," he said they say.

Then, "Now, you question him," he said they say. Then, "Being just the same kind | you came," he said they say. Then, "These brothers for it they look," | he said they say. Then, "Now, I am through, all," he said they say. Then, | "Why for them did you leave a trail?" he said they say. bridle | there was hanging they say. Another here was hanging they say. Then, "All right, now | here you all stay together, you-will hear, all of you," he said they say. Then | they two came back they say. Sweatbath stood there they say. Stones on them fire they say. Then, | "You form a line, one beyond the other, four of you; we will take a bath," he said they say. "Four times we will go in; | four times we will come out," he said they say, Tobatc'istcini. Then, "Four times with them when they went in | four times with-them when we come out, just like us you will be," he said they-say. | Then "This the sweatlodge, sun his sweatlodge will be, you although you built it. | Four times with them when we go in they-will be like us, just like us," | he said they say.

Then the fourth time when he had gone in with them those he-questioned they say. "Where he lives | he kills you?" he said they-say. Then, "This way down he lives they say. All he has killed | they say. Something long he carries about they say. That with it he kills they say," he said they say. | Then, "Well, he has killed-you, well," he said they say. Then, "Here if he stops, his neck you must cut off," | he said to them they say. "Now you, must-shoot him," he said they say. Then | "Long thing which he holds people if he sees he strikes with it. Then people he kills with it | far away, people if he sees," he said they say.

Then here he was walking they say. Then he stopped they say. There he shot him | they say. The other one his neck he struck off they say. Then just the same way he stood again | they say. Right-there he shot him again they say. His neck he struck off again they say. | Backward his head fell they say. Just the same way he stood again they say. He shot him again | they say. His neck he cut off again they say. Then the other one | in front of him he ran then where his heart was he shot him again they say. | Then now his flesh flew into pieces they say. Way over his flesh covered the-ground | they say. Then his flesh quivered they say. Then Naiye' the one called | they killed they say.

Then their fly, "That because of it, Naiyenezgani his name for you he made. | That Tobatc'istcini that to him the monster both of you by each other the monster | you will kill because of that that because of name for you he will make. Your father he | before his eyes you did it. He was looking at you before he could-move for you he did it. | Then he came to you. Well beside at you when he looked then | that which he had with it he was doing the-monster that which he had that he could not do anything | for you when he made then you killed him. Then I to you that which-I gave good | with it he made for that reason people for them for that reason good for you when he made it | with it you did it this for you I gave just this only that kind he said. The monster| his face that well you look at when you turn it over look at it," he said they say. Their fly | said it they say.

Then that one his face they turned over they say. Then here he is walking | just people his face is like, his face he had they say. He was that way, in front of him | a person could not come up to him they say. Then behind his head his eyes | he had they say. Then there his eyes were they say. Then his knife | on the edge of it was sharp they say. The handle only was good they say.

Then, "This knife let us take that they may find out," he said they say. Then, "This | knife if we do not take back, people will-not believe us. Not any monster | people used to kill we killed if we say, people will not believe us," he said | they say.

Then mountain white where it stands they landed again they-say. From there | beyond mountain white where it is horizontal they landed again they say. Camp | they two came back they say.

Then when they two got there, "People let them come together; children, too, all | let them come together," he said they say, Naiyenezgani. Then, "My mother, people toward each other | they are coming. This buckskin spread it down. On that arrows place them. This mine, too; | that, too," he said they say. Then "People let you come together," he said they say. Then | "Men two who had come here let them stand," he said they say. Then his brother, | "Here you stand; I here I will stand, too," he said they say. Then, "To them | I will speak," he said they say. "You, too, to them you speak," he said they say.

Then, "This because of it I say this to you," he said they say. "This, you never saw before, | this because you see, I am saying it-to you," he said they say. tain which stands on it we went up again. | Beyond that mountain its child which stands on it we went up again," he said they say. Then, | "Man in a valley he was walking," he said they say. "There we saw him, for us | to him he went," he said they say. His fly he did not name they say. Then, | "When he came back 'the way-his walking his eyes are none. Back of his head his eyes | he has,' he told us," he said they say. Then, "'Man behind him to him if he is stepping up | he kills him' he told us," he said they say. Then, "Now people not one he will kill I guess," | he said they say. "Well, we will live," he said they say.

Then this his knife he picked up they say. Then people among them | he carried it around they say. Man his blood it was-bad with they say. "No place one holds it | this where I hold it only all right," he said they say. "Now here this monster that which belongs to | do not look at," he said they say. "It is bad," he said they say. "You eat then you go home," | he said they say. Then, "Our horses too good we will look at," he said they say. | Then their mother spoke to them they say. "These two they-have come to you where horses why don't you go with?" | she said they say.

Then where the horses are they went with them they say. Then "This the yellow one you may catch, | the mare back of her shoulder on it white spot small that by | you will know it," he said they say. Then, "You horse black forehead white spot | you may catch," he said they say. "Anywhere when we are away then saddle | you may put on. it became they say. "He must be there," they said | they say. Then they two started they say. Mountain on it they two landed they-say. | Then from there beyond mountain on it they two landed-again they say. From there | onward mountain where it projects they two landed again they say. Then on a plain mountain | blue stood they say. On it they two landed again they say.

Then these those who kill people places opposite each other it seems they lived they say. Then those people | earth at its center it seems they were living they say. Then people they continued-killing toward each other | they say. Then mountain on it they-stood they say, side by side. Then their father | the way he is they-were made they say. Then their bodies one could not see they say. | Then Naiye' those were killed out they say. Then they were-standing on it they say.

Then, "My fly, fly around, everywhere hunt for him. Somewhere he is living," | he said to him they say, his fly. Then fly flew away they say. From them he went in a circle | they say. Then this way inside of it he circled again they say. Then | behind them he found-he was coming they say. Man both directions his eyes he had; | his eyes were four they say. Then long something crooked he found he carried they say. | Then when he stops behind himself well he looked they say. In front of himself | he did not look they-say. Up he looked they say. accustomed to come up," they say. Then | their fly to them when-he came back, "Right here is good," he said they say.

Then the brothers of each other to each other spoke they say. "Tobatc'istcini, what is the matter?" | he said they say. Naiyenezgani said it they say. Then Tobatc'istcini, | "You are the leader whatever you say you before me you say it," he said | they say, Tobatc'istcini. Then, "Well, Tobatc'istcini, in vain I spoke to you," | he said they say. Naiyenezgani, "In front of him we two will go. Hail | thirty-two having points I will cause to fall on him," he said they say. "You?" he said they say. "I, | water hot will cause to-fall on him," he said they say.

Then, he walking in front of him they two went they say. Then the sky made a noise | they say. Then it began to rain they say. Behind him toward him they two walked | they say. Then the top-of his head he put his hands they say. Water hot with it rained | they say. Him only they could see they say. He he could not see-them they say. Then, "Well, | between you let him walk," he said they say, their fly. Then already he was weakened it became | they say. Water hot, hail hitting him he was weakened it was they say.

Then Naiyenezgani here stood they say. Tobatc'istcini | here stood they say. Then here he was walking they say. Then he spoke | they say. "It is a terrible time," he said they say. "I, too, where I have been it is dangerous, too," | he said they say. Then here he walked they say. Then up he drew his bow | they-say. He brought it down they say. Then he shot they say. The-other one his neck | he struck off they say. Then just the same way he stood again they say. He shot again | they say. The other one his neck he struck off again they say. Three ways he fell they say. | Then the fourth time when they did the same thing then like water he spread out they say.

Then Naiye' they did that way to like water he spread out. Then, "Not anything | he will kill," he said they say, Naiyenezgani. Then, "Naiye' this way | I do to him. Then right here mouth blood only let him float in then earth | on it people well will live. Then well I did," he said | they say, Tobatc'istcini. "Come, my brother, we will go back. That people the he killed them with | we will take-along," he said they say, Naiyenezgani. Then that people | that he killed with in a coil he made it they say. Then his club in his blanket fold he put | they say. Then, "Come, let us go back," he said they say.

Then where they landed they two landed again they say. From-there where they two landed | there they two landed again they say. From there beyond where they two landed they two landed again | they say. There camp near it they say then camp by it | they-danced they say. That the he carried up he held it he danced-around | they say.

Then, "My mother we are hungry; hurry for us cook," he said they say. Then | all they ate they say. Then, "My mother people all bring together," he said | they say. Then, "Those people where they ran out invite them," he said they say. | Then his mother spoke they say. "Those people all you come together, | quickly," she said they say. "My sons where they have been all day something they must have seen. | That they will tell you about he said it," she said they say.

That but to him both of us did it," he said they say. "I | alone, I could do it; he too alone, he could do it," he said they say, Naiyenezgani. | Then, "To him we did it because not long time we did it," he said they say. Then, | "This our father for us he helped for that reason not a long time we killed him," he said they say. | Then, "This Naiye' which is called you there if you went you could not do-anything with him," | he said they say. "Immediately he would kill-you. He would eat you up," he said they say. Then, | "This with people tribes all he killed," he said they say. "Soon to you | he was coming. Before there we knew it all he would have killed-us," he said | they say. "Earth on its border people are none. Just us only are left," | he said they say. Then, "Now this way people with it he killed I am telling you," | he said they say. "Now, over there you go," he said to them they say, the people. Then, | "This way people with it he killed I tell you," he said they say.

Then far bushes stood they say. Then there he threw it | they say. Then tree around it it went they say. Then that tree | like it was cut off it became they say. "This way people with it he was killing," he said they say. | Then, "Now well people we will live. Nobody you will bother," | he said they say. "Earth round it a man is starting. Just one day he will come-back," | he said they say. Then, "He will tell us about it," he said they say.

Then Tobatc'istcini started they say. Then his mother to him |

A Captive of the Navajo.

Like this boy I was taken captive. Navajo took me captive. At night, early when they were singing | when day was breaking I-was captured. Then just at daylight they came marching. Then | they were coming in line just then they ran after us, Navajo. Then all started to run away. | They shooting they began. Then this way I ran. Then they caught me, | camp inside as I was running. Then many people were killed. | Then women, too, I saw killed. Then with us they moved away. | Nine we were us · they captured.

Then with us they started away. Then this direction along the-road with us | they went. Water brown water where it stands with-us they went past. Where the mountain projects | with us they went-past, bear where he went into the pool, beyond that I do not know-where with us | they went. From there onward at night with us they-went, that I do not know. | From there onward a large mountain east-of it with us they went. From there onward | among the Navajo with-us they arrived.

There with us they danced, at night. Then with us while-they were dancing it was day. | Then just one apiece· to one another they gave us out, nine of us. Then | there I lived nine years. Then Navajo chief | to him he gave me. Then him with him I stayed. Then my brother I heard about him. | Bear its spring he came they said then but from me he hid it. Then | Mexican to him he was going to give me I heard. Then, "No," he said. | "Why to him I will give you away?" Then, "No," he said. Then | woman horse went back with her.

Truly my brother was there. Then Navajo, his wife another | they two came. Then sheep we were going to herd. There we were-herding them | on the mountain. Then while I did not tell him it was-morning. She did not say anything three | nights passed. Then fourth night passed I spoke. Then, "Your brother after you | he came," she said. "Do not tell him," he said. Then, "Here we two will stay, my grandchild," | she said to me. Then, "A woman (?) I will arrange," she said to me. "Houses two | will be," she told me. Then, "Why far away shall I live?" I thought.

Then, "Bear its spring across you drive them sheep, horses too. Nine | when days are there I will go," he said. Then we-drove them. There we spent the night. | Then sheep I killed. Then when I had eaten it was morning. Then I drove the herd out, | early. Then sheep its shoulder I buried in the ashes. "My kinsfolk where-are they?" I was thinking. | Then horse after it I walked. Then horse I brought back. On it | I put them.[1] Then rope I tied on. Arrows too I held.

Then this direction horse I started to lead, early where I had-never seen. Then | where I went not knowing outside. Then wagon its road I found. | Navajo his house I went by. By the door I passed. Then in wild country | I spent the night. Somewhere I-spent the night then still night I went on. Then Tsenodǫzyu[2] | I went by. Then at sun down I came to a river. Then up I went-again. | There white man his house was. There white man boy cattle he was herding.

Then, "Well to him let me go," I thought. Then to him I came. Then, | "Where your father is his house?" I said to him. "Across the river in a valley his house is," | he said to me. Then to him I went Mexican old man. Then I shook hands with him. | "Njo," he said to me. Then he began to tell me something. Then "Where campo | Apatci?" I asked him. Then, "This road there Apatci mucho, there," | he told me. Then, "That way, my friend," I told him. "That way, my friend," | I told him. Then this way constantly (?) this way I came. Bread, | meat sack for me (?) when he put in he gave me.

Then this way where water makes a noise I spent the night. Then wagon its road | only horse ran. Then Eastfork I came-back. Then bread then | I ate. European told me, "Sweet it is," he told me.

Then some, Indians two sat on. Apache they were. Then all I ate. Then | to them I came. Then I asked a question. Then, "Where my brother is he living?" | I said to him. "Tsenanodozo'[3]" he told me. Then this way Indians after me they came. | Nearly they killed me. Then blanket, rope in vain they asked me for. | That because of it nearly they killed me. Then one, "Do not-kill him," | (?) she said of me. Then one blanket to her[4] I gave; the other rope to him[4] I gave. | Then because of that they did-not kill me.

Then mountain circles-around where it is called | Ganyałtin[2] his voice with it there it-dawns they say. Then Gan their voices come up | where it is-called, life with it across one another where it blows, there where-life is footprints four places | were lying they say. Then at the-center of the sky life four times down one looks it became | they-say. Then mirage four different colors, four at the center of the-sky | they alight it became they say.

Then toward the dawn Gan his voice, clouds dark made of with they came up | it happened they say. Then there life· with it sky spotted black, | then lightning black went down it happened they say. There sky its pollen | four places that which he breathed-out, Gan people on it they alighted it happened | they say.

Then south under it Gan blue, his voice cloud blue | made of it rose up it happened they say. There lightning blue struck on-it | it happened they say. There earth its pollen, pollen life | four places that which he breathed on it they alighted it happened they say. Then there | life sky blue spotted.

West Gan yellow spotted, there his voice, cloud yellow

Gan people life for it when they were hunting east sky they-came to | they say. There nevertheless life not yet they had gotten they say.

South under it sky they lighted on again they say. Two directions life | with it they started on.

West life sky they lighted on again they say. Then life | three times formed a cross it happened they say.

Then dipper toward it sky on it they alighted they say. | Then life now four times forming a cross it was made they say.

Then now well life they went they say. Life | now they let-them have. Here not anything having happened to them with it they went | they say. This direction they say.

Then to the east life sky where it is black spotted on their-bodies | life daylight fell on them it happened they say.

South under it life sky blue spotted where it is called here | life twice on their bodies daylight came it happened they say.

West life sky yellow spotted where it is called life three places | on their bodies daylight came it happened they say.

Dipper under it life sky where it is white spotted life four-times | on their bodies when daylight came now their life four times inside they look at each other. | Now whirlwind its voice four colors with his mouth he looked in. | Life made a noise they say.

Then here east four colors black with it | his body he twisted it happened they say. Then lightning black life | on his body when it struck with it he went they say. Life with it on his body | when he breathed he went they say. Then that which he breathed-out lightning | when it strikes with it life made a noise it happened they say. [1] This prayer was made for the narrator himself, perhaps to guard against misfortune as a result of communicating the above to a white man under unusual conditions.

he talks again. Life with it a long distance it has its end with it earth | on it for us with good fortune when he talks life not having an end with it | four places with it to me he talks again.

Prayer.

Then I earth on it, life having no end | with it, for me good he talks. Here my life for it I praying I say this. | Boy holy good with it for me you will talk. He, his own life, | mine he will look after me, saying this I pray I say it.

The Placing of the Earth.

This the large one lies that not I before my eyes was put in place. This on it | well my mind well my mind was made. Truly, well I heard | it was made. There it was made lying. When there was no way to make it | then four directions with it the wind was blowing they say. When there was no way to do |this one earth in it which lives, gopher, then his rope dark by the edge | lies under all around it. Then here his rope black under it lies. Here | his rope blue under it lies. Here his rope yellow | under it lies. Here his rope white under it lies.

Then over here again wind black, metal black with it | one inside of the other stood. Then under it standing against it it was made. Here wind | blue, metal blue with it one inside of the other when it stood, under it standing against it it was made. Here | wind yellow, metal yellow one inside of the other standing, under it standing against it | it was made. Here wind white, metal white with it one inside of the other standing | under it standing against it it was made. Here all it went around.

"Now, well it comes to its place. It does not move. Good it becomes," he said they say. | "Now, good when it has become what shall we do? This good since it has become for some reason | poorly it will lie. Well, toward itself we will fix it. A hard time | we have come to it. That beautiful lies. Then good now good | it has become." Above it he was doing this way.

"Then above it cloud black, cloud black sprinkling moves around," he said they say. Then, "That will be all right also," | he said they say. Then this with it it will be alive, down he gave; there | this one they say. Then, "Wet alive he made it it is," |

he said they say. "Well (?) us treats," he said | they say. "With-it we will live," he said they say. Then, "Truly | (?) us he treated," he said they say. "Now, what shall we do? | Now, thanks," they said they say.

Then, "Just this way people we are," he said they say. "The one in charge, | then, that one only walking around will be good. Just a good person | walking around," they said they say. This one good they looked at, this person he meant they say. | This sun they spoke about, we that one walking around that one in his-presence | it was done.

Then I suppose this one Ests'unnadlehi, "Something poor that | will be," she said they say. "Just well, first where the sun-strikes there something bad | I will do," when she thought there she sat they say. That one I guess person was living | she was-doing it it was they say. There were no people living it was they-say. Then | people many they should live she did it it was they-say. Then pregnant she became | they say. Then just she only knew it. Then this one one walking with her | he knew it, they say.

Then she gave birth they say. Just there where she sat there she gave birth | they say. Then she gave birth early she returned-to it they say. Early | she returned to it they say. Early she returned-to it they say. Four times | when it was to be the next morning she-returned to it they say, there. Then four when days were | after it-was born she came back with it they say. Then his shoes every-thing | with he was dressed she came back with him they say.

Then, "Just only he is not good," she said they say. "It will-be good this way, | poor thing if I do again," she said. they say. Well, water where it drips | she went back it happened. they say. Then pregnant she became again they say.

Then there she gave birth again they say. Then, "Also the-same way again I will do," she thought they say. Then she gave-birth again, early | she went again to it they say. Early she went-again to it they say. Early | she went again to it they say. Then four when days were after she had given birth she came back with it | they say. Then this way moccasin buckskin all with dressed | she came back with him they say. Then two she had borne they-say.

Then the last one she bore Tobatc'istcini she named him they-say. | Then first she bore Biłnajnolłije she named they say. Then | just these only her children they say.

Then sun by his door water vessel black on it | lines he made

Water male four ways | it rain he made they say. Then this earth those on it the fruits | four ways in lines he made they say. Then, "Thanks, well | he has treated us," he said they say.

Then Ests'unnadlehi by her door water vessel yellow she made| they say. On it lines she made they say. Lightning yellow | four ways under it crossing she made they say. Four places it thundered out she made | they say. Four ways rain female fall she made they say. Then | these fruits four places for them converging lines she made they say. Then, | "Thanks (?) he-treated us," they said they say.

Then "(?) he treated us. Well, it has become," they said they say. | "This grass it shakes; four ways for us with it blows he made," they said | they say. Then "Well, it came to place. Trouble (?) will be none. | Then good ground only with for us will lie," they said they say. | "Still the same way for us it is-finished. It is still that way. Long ago it was. We are still thankful."

"This sun, Ests'unnadlehi, where our father lives, my mother?" | they said they say. "Do not say that; dangerous place he lives," she said they say. | Ests'unnadlehi said it they say. "Dangerous-place he lives, do not say it." | "Nevertheless instruct us," he said they say. "There we two go our father | to him," he said they say.

"There if you go at night only you must travel," she said they say. | "Then in the daytime just there you must sit," she-said they say. "At night only | you must travel," she said they-say. Truly sun, their father, not yet | he saw them | they go to him because, that because, she told them this they say. "Just at night only | we travel. Daytime when it becomes again there we will-travel," he said they say. | "What because of it does she say that?" he thought they say.

Then in the daytime they traveled. Then mosquitoes metal black | their teeth the earth was striped brown. Those when they-approached there was no way | they say. Then rain horizontal-yellow with fell on them. These | their wings were wet, then trees they stuck to, then they went by beyond | they say. "That because-of it she must have said it. metal black, whirlwind black | with one inside of the other standing for them went twisting through. They went past beyond it they-say. | "Truly a dangerous place she spoke of, that," he said. "Dangerous places among them we go," | he said they say. Then, "Truly our mother spoke, these dangerous places | among them we go," he said they say.

Then to him when they were going sand one cannot step on, with him down | it rolls, then no way there is they say. Then big measuring worm | black rainbow with his back is striped, then with them | beyond it when he bent himself with beyond it they-passed by they say.

Then now to him those two who were going they came near him they say. Then | now around him thirty-two bodies of water around him lay they say. Then | now there was nothing one could do they say. This turquoise bird here he sat | they say. That one showing them the way they walked. Their father toward him water four times lay around him | in that men two he saw go. Then this way bed | under it in there she put them they say.

"Here persons two came. Where did they go?" he said they-say. Woman, | "Nobody," she said they say. Sun, "'I have not-been anywhere,' you tell me," | she said to him they say, his wife. "Here your sons two came," she said they say, "here."

Then, "Well, here you come," he said to them they say. Then he saw them | they say. Facing him they two sat down they say. Then that hanging up like this, | four places they were hanging they say. a smoke; tobacco some where I might smoke I came. Why did-you do that to me?" he said | they say.

"Just that my tobacco," he said to them they say. Then he his pipe | clay was made. Having a hole through it his pipe they say. "I this my pipe; | this my tobacco," he said to him they say. "Your tobacco when it was | why didn't you tell me my son?" he-said to him they say.

There then chair he placed they say. Then there | he went-with them they say. Then between them he sat they say. On-either side of him they two sat | they say. Then, "Sun come, move yourself." Then his sons | looked just alike they say. Then, "Sun move yourself," she said | they say.

Then, "Truly they are my children," he said they say, sun. "What kind | you want for it you are my children?" he said. "This good your speech, | good because of it we came," he said they say. "This first my property which is much | for it you are, immediately that name for me," he told them they say. "Immediately | that you name for me," he said they say.
